NEW PERIODICAL ARTICLES BY RUSSELL

KENNETH BLACKWELL

There are 35 new entries since 1993 for A Bibliography of Bertrand Russell, and more for all Parts of Vol. 2. With many thanks to several readers.

C15.18a [RECONSTRUCTION OF INTELLECTUAL INTERNATIONALISM AFTER THE WAR]. Svenska Dagbladet, Stockholm, 18 July 1915, sec. 8, p. 5.
Published under the general title “Det kulturella samarbetets återupptagande efter kriget” [The re-establishment of cultural cooperation after the war]. There is a subtitle: “Tre nya svar på Svenska Dagbladets världsenquête” [Three new responses to Svenska Dagbladets world enquiry].—Ms. (RA3 REC. ACQ. 1,325).—In English in Russell, n.s. 18 (1998): 141–3 (ed. K. Blackwell).

“... the country is drifting into the infliction of serious persecution upon a large number of young men....”—Reprinted, with two-thirds omitted, in Jim Herrick, Vision and Realism: a Hundred years of The Freethinker (London: Foote, 1982), pp. 51–2.

C23.10a BERTRAND RUSSELL PREDICTS U.S. WILL EVENTUALLY CONTROL THE ENTIRE WORLD. The Daily Argus, Mt. Vernon, NY, 7 March 1923, p. 3.

C28.02a WHAT I THINK OF COMPANIONATE MARRIAGE. Children, the Magazine for Parents, Chicago, 3 (Feb. 1928): 17.
Russell’s contribution—one of four under the title, the others being by Ernest R. Groves, Stephen S. Wise, and Anna Garlin Spencer, pp. 17, 47—is five sentences long.—Reprinted in Collected Papers 18 (in preparation).

C28.02b [ADVICE ON WRITING]. The Daily Illini (U. of Illinois), Champaign, IL, 12 Feb. 1928, p. 15.
Letter to the author on developing a writing style, quoted fully in Newton York,
“What Authors Advise”, ibid.—Part of Russell’s advice is to “read Gibbon all through, at least twice.” —Reprinted in Collected Papers 18 (in preparation).

Letter to a Coventry correspondent, under the title, “The Dismissed Teacher”.

C34.36a ROMAN-CELTIC FARM SITE. The Times, 18 Sept. 1934, p. 7.
Letter in “Points from Letters”, signed by John Russell, Telegraph House, Harting, Petersfield, referring to S. E. Winbolt’s “A Roman-Celtic Farm Site; Discovery near Harting, Sussex”, ibid., 10 Sept. 1934, p. 7. The writer states that his part was “not so great” as it appears in the account.—The composition of the letter is ascribed here to Bertrand Russell because a draft, with the exception of a phrase added later, is entirely in his fluent hand. That of his 13-year-old son is not present.—The draft was crossed out, and the verso became folio 1 of the ms. of “On Ceremony” (C34.48).

A telegram congratulating the Brooklyn Jewish Center for “inaugurating an American Library for Nazi burnt books”—The allusion is to the Nazi bonfire of banned books on 10 May 1933.—The dinner celebrating the Library and mentioned in Russell’s telegram is the subject of Joseph Goldberg, “‘A Splendid and Historic Gathering’: Brooklyn Jewish Center Inaugurates Library of Nazi Banned books”, Brooklyn Jewish Center Review, 15, no. 21 (Jan. 1935): 4, 19.—In the telegram Russell mentions Einstein, who attended the dinner.—Typed carbon (RA3 REC. ACQ. 1065).

C35.19a SKITTLES. The Times, 31 May 1935, p. 12.
Letter to the editor in reply to “Your correspondent”, Dr. Edward Frankland. (Frankland’s letter and the quotation from it cannot be found in the digital archive of The Times; perhaps it was in an edition that wasn’t microfilmed. Frankland published one or two letters a year in The Times at this time.) May 1935 saw several letters in praise of games for persons beyond their athletic prime. One such letter was “A Plea for Skittles”, by J. B. C. Grundy, 21 May. Frankland’s letter probably followed this one.—The letter is ascribed to Russell because: (1) he signed C16.08 “F.R.S.”, and the only letters to the Times editor so signed are (his) C23.36a and (his possibly) “The Right of Way”, 1 June 1932; (2) by 1935 he had indeed been “a student at a German university very many years ago”; (3) the reference to Carlyle in connection with “the Hitler-group”, on which Russell had written in “The Revolt against Reason” (C35.01) and HWP, p. 642, fits the plans in B. Lintott’s “Russell’s Aborted Book on Fascism”, Russell 28 (2008): 39–64; (4) the letter’s Russellian wit and style.

C40.01b [TWO STATEMENTS ON CCNY]. The Campus (ccny), New York, 66, no. 11 (15 March 1940): 1.
In the main article, “One Thousand Students Hear Cohen, Randall Defend Russell”, a four-sentence press statement by Russell is quoted (“A man expects that sort of attack ... not moral problems”). A telegram from Russell to the ccny chapter of the astu (American Student Union) is then summarized.—Ms. of telegram and Russell’s reply (B10 B11); telegram, dated 13 March, is from City College Students Union. This may not be the astu, and Russell’s reply (“Most grateful for your support against clerical interference with academic freedom”) does not quite fit the summary.

A letter of 20 April 1940, signed “Patricia Russell”. The final paragraph reads: “My husband has read and approved this letter and hopes that you will publish it.”

Dialogue with Rex Stout, broadcast over WEAF and the Red Network, 24 July 1941. Ts. mimeo.—Ms. (R3 REC. ACQ. 1,372).—Audio recording (R3 REC. ACQ. 1,560; Russell Society library).—A list of the “Speaking of Liberty” programmes and guests is at http://archive.org/details/SpeakingOfLiberty.—Missed from Denonn, 1941.8.

C42.09a BERTRAND RUSSELL HAILS NEW LEADER ON INDIA. The New Leader, 25, no. 41 (10 Oct. 1942): 8.
Boxed in the “Letters to the Editor” column: “I think that The New Leader has handled the Indian situation a great deal more intelligently than any other left-wing paper that I have read.”—S. M. Levitas, the editor, took the view from Patricia Russell’s letter to him, 6 October 1942 (RA REC. ACQ. 1715).

C43.05a THE CROSSROADS—EUROPE STUMBLES TOWARD CONTINENTAL UNITY. The New Leader, New York, 26, no. 15 (10 April 1943): 4.
Subtitled “Bertrand Russell Discusses Problem of Freedom and Order”.—A discussion of Winston Churchill’s speech of 21 March 1943, “A Four Years’ Plan”.

C45.08a BRITAIN SHOULD EVACUATE INDIA, SAYS RUSSELL. The Indian Express, Madras, 12 May 1945, p. 1.

C49.15a [RECEIPT OF ORDER OF MERIT]. The Times, 14 June 1949, p. 7.
In the “Court Circular”, there is a third-person message: “Earl Russell thanks all those friends who have kindly sent congratulations on his receipt of the Order of Merit. He regrets that they are too numerous for individual acknowledgement.”

C49.33 FROM BERTRAND RUSSELL. The Sunday Times, 25 Dec. 1949, p. 3.

Subtitled “Not Barred by America”—Lord Russell”. The Archbishop of Melbourne, Daniel Mannix, had stated in the past week that it was regrettable Australia had not treated Russell as a prohibited immigrant and that Russell failed to realize that communism was the logical outcome of his atheism. Russell responded in what appears to be a statement. An interview comprising three questions and answers follows.—The text of Russell’s telegram in reply to Mannix is in Wood, Bertrand Russell (H59), p. 214. Mannix’s apology was recorded in “Earl Russell Still Riled at Archbishop”, The Mail, Adelaide, 12 Aug. 1950, p. 52; “He Got Apology from Archbishop”, Horsesham Times, 18 Aug. 1950.—Reprinted in Collected Papers 26 (in preparation).

C50.31b BERTRAND RUSSELL’S IMPRESSIONS. The West Australian, Perth, 19 Aug. 1950, p. 3.
A note introducing the article states that Russell’s title for the article was “Why West Australians Should Be Happy”—Reprinted in Collected Papers 26 (in preparation).

The meeting took place the previous week in opposition to political trials held by Franco regime in Spain.—Dictated ms. is dated 31 March 1952 (RA 750); signed ts. (REC. ACQ. 1379).—Reprinted in Collected Papers 26 (in preparation).

C52.11a [BIRTHDAY THANKS]. The Times, 20 May 1952, p. 1.
At the top of column 3: “Bertrand Russell thanks all kind friends who have congratulated him on his 80th birthday and regrets that they are too numerous for individual acknowledgement.”—Russell’s dictation for 30 May notes the sending of a “cheque to ‘Times’”, doubtless to cover the insertion’s fee.

C53.02a  ASIA AND THE WEST. The University of Chicago Round Table, no. 772 (11 Jan. 1953): 1–11.

C58.49a  IT IS NOT YET TOO LATE! Czechoslovak Trade Unions, Prague, no. 10 (Oct. 1958): 18.
Subtitled “Professor Bertrand Russell’s reply to the editorial offices of Czechoslovak Trade Unions”. Russell answers four questions on nuclear disarmament posed in the magazine’s letter to him of 4 July 1958.—Dictated ms. is dated 26 May 1958 (RA1 750); ts. carbon (RA1 410).—Reprinted in Collected Papers 30 (in preparation).

C60.01b  [OVERCOMING IDEOLOGICAL DIFFERENCES]. Sekai [The world], Tokyo, no. 169 (Jan. 1960): 96–9.
Published in Japanese. Dictated ms. and ts. carbon are titled “Comments on the Open Letter to Me from Professor Tetsuzo Tanigawa” and dated 4 November 1959 (RA1 220.022910).—Tanigawa’s letter was to appear in the same issue as Russell’s. On war and disarmament.—Reprinted in Collected Papers 30 (in preparation).

On Ernest Simon’s work for nuclear disarmament, to supplement the Guardian’s obituary of him on 10 October.—Dictated ms. (RA 750) and ts. carbon (RA2 220.148020) are dated 10 October 1960.

C62.51b  [ON LEGAL ACTION AGAINST DER SPIEGEL]. Der Spiegel, Hamburg, 16, no. 45 (7 Nov. 1962): 82.
